The Library building is Monroe Township’s newest addition. It is now located at 713 Marsha Avenue, behind the Stoltzfus’ Amish Market on the Black Horse Pike. Founded in 1878, the Library was originally a one room building on Main Street before moving across the street to a store front building. Today, the library collection consists of more than 80,000 items, including: books, magazines, newspapers, DVDs, ebooks, videos, music on compact disk and cassette, and books on audio cassette and CD, as well as a number of online services and products.

In 1992, the Monroe Township Library first offered access to the Internet to our patrons. Williamstown residents use Library computers annually for Internet research, resume writing, business purposes and special projects for schools. Thanks to grants over the years, most notably from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the Library was able to increase the number of available public computers.

The Monroe Township Library was also one of the first in New Jersey to have its own website, launched in 1992. The website is constantly changing and updated regularly to keep up with the needs of the community and technology. You can now access the website from your mobile device as well as your laptop or PC. It offers important links to business, education and government websites, access to our online newsletter and remote access to search our catalog from home in order to place reserves! The website also provides full text searching where you can look up articles and data bases as well as books under a single search term. This is a great tool for students and business owners.

In 2009 the Library joined a consortium of the twenty public libraries in Gloucester County called LOGIN. Our membership permits all Monroe residents who have valid Library cards to use the collections of all LOGIN member libraries, as well as the collections of Gloucester County Institute of Technology, Gloucester County College Library, Gloucester County Library and Salem Community College Library. In 2012, we also welcomed Cumberland County Library, Cumberland County College Library and the Pennsville and Salem Free Public Libraries into the LOGIN fold. The Library is also a member of LOGICAL which is a consortium of municipal libraries in Gloucester County. Join us each April for the Meet the Authors event at the Library. Over three dozen authors gather annually to meet with the public to discuss their latest works.

The Library is also a wireless ‘hot spot’ with study tables (with electric power) available for patrons to plug-in laptops!

New exhibits (including an Art Gallery) and interesting events and programs are frequently presented. The Library’s two reading clubs: the Bookmarks and the Bookworms, meet monthly. There is a Film Screening Club that also meets on a monthly basis. All are welcome to attend. Children’s programming includes story hours, summer reading activities and special holiday events. Teen also have their own space and special programs.

The Library also hosts the Red Cross monthly blood drive and the AARP Tax Assistance program.

Photocopy machines and a fax machine are also available to patrons. A certified librarian is always on site to assist with reference and research.

Visitors can view an online copy of our newsletter, Library Lines, or pick one up at the Main Circulation Desk.

We are very pleased to offer our patrons a quiet, modern and comfortable environment in which to read and do research. The new building not only has spacious meeting rooms and a small café area, but it also offers a cozy fireplace area for winter reading AND a beautiful outdoor garden for relaxed reading in the warmer months.

The Library now has a Friends of the Library group who hosts a variety of fundraising and fun events including a book sale, Flea Market, Holiday Craft Fair and many other events. The Friends are always looking for new members, volunteers and participants. Friends meet the first Monday of each month at 1:00. Join the fun.

The hours of the Library are: Monday through Thursday from 11:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. and Friday from 12 Noon to 5:00 P.M. and Saturday from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. (closed Saturdays in July and August). The Telephone number is (856) 629-1212 and the Fax number is (856) 875-0191. The Library website is: www.monroetownshiplibrary.org
