

Memo from Comcast

As we approach the start of a what is sure to be a challenging new school year, I want to remind you that Comcast will continue to offer two free months of internet service to new Internet Essentials customers through December 31,2020. We remain committed to keeping low-income families connected to schools and other educational resources. If you are aware of any community partners that would benefit from learning more about this program, please contact me using the information below.

You can also find additional details on how Comcast is supporting our communities, customers and employees by visiting: comcast.com/covid-19.

As always, I am available if you have any questions.

Thanks,
Fred
